“DONT WORRY, THE AUDIENCE WON’T KNOW THAT HE’S A VIGILANTE”

Law Enforcement Rules and Procedures Analysis

1. Insignias: The lack of insignias, standard-issue with all law enforcement agencies in the United States, rules out the possibility that this is a real US soldier, placing him squarely in the category of an unregulated militia or vigilante. The soldier depicted here cannot be a member of the US Border Patrol because they were already shown earlier wearing the USBP insignias. The Customs and Border Patrol (CBP) also follows proper regulations regarding insignias.

2. Accessories: American law enforcement is typically accompanied by the accessories and gadgets that the public is used to seeing on an officer of the peace. The only accessories worn by the soldier designed by the Trump Campaign ad is a backpack. Enclosed below are some images of Special Ops law enforcement teams and their typical attire and gear, as well as the set-up for Customs and Border Patrol (CBP) at the San Ysidro border crossing in Tijuana.
